

Greater Western Sydney Industry Led Blueprint

Place-based Integrated Services

In collaboration with a range of partners, Western Sydney Community Forum is leading the design of a blueprint for delivering place based integrated services. The blueprint emphasises client centricity, service coordination, and community, business and government sharing a common agenda.

It will provide guidance for investment into robust structures that support a rapidly growing region with continuing social and economic priorities. The Blueprint will also contribute to the evidence base of service design efforts.
